ReconcilingWorks Assembly 2015

& Reconciling in Christ Conference

July 31–Aug 2, 2015 at Augsburg College, Minneapolis, Minnesota

“Until all are free, no one is free.” When the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. preached these words, he echoed the timeless value of “do unto others” as well as the renewed understanding of the freedom found in the Spirit of Christ. The theme of “Until All Are Free” will guide the work of this assembly as we give thanks for the foundation we have laid and the work ahead.

Come learn new ways of outreach, hear stories of joy and challenge, and explore ways to live the work of reconciliation in the Lutheran tradition. Throughout the assembly, participants will explore justice issues, focusing on the intersection of Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender (LGBT) people and racial justice efforts, political justice issues and strategy, and the work to ensure welcome is a lived experience in the Lutheran Church. ReconcilingWorks will hold business sessions where members and partners will play an integral part in guiding our organization over the next three years. Time will be spent learning from each other about new organizing methods and strategies to take back to our communities, working to ensure “welcome” is a lived experience for all Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender (LGBT) people and their families—and that nobody is free until all are free. The Gala dinner is one you will not want to miss!
